

FROM:

Start the Ultimate Relationship

... through
God's word

Silver Street Mission, www.atsilverstreet.com 2008

FROM:

Start the Ultimate Relationship

... through
God's word

Silver Street Mission, www.atsilverstreet.com 2008

FROM:

Start the Ultimate Relationship

... through
God's word

Silver Street Mission, www.atsilverstreet.com 2008

IN JULY 2008, Australia will host one of the most significant religious events for decades when the Catholic Church holds World Youth Day in Sydney.

It may seem strange that a Protestant leaflet mentions this event. However it has many good aspects. It brings young people together. It encourages Christian youth to act as a force for good. It builds good will towards Australia in Catholic young people from all around the world. It re-emphasises the saving power of Jesus.

This is not to deny or minimise criticisms. It will probably be enormously disruptive. It will put pressure on services and infrastructure. There have been questions about the cost of this event.

We Protestants do question aspects of Catholic presentations of Christianity. The Reformation rescued the gospel from layers of obligations, practices and superstitions which had arisen over the centuries. The Reformers' radical cry was "sola scriptura!" (by scripture alone.) Of course we respect the wisdom of history's Councils and

IN JULY 2008, Australia will host one of the most significant religious events for decades when the Catholic Church holds World Youth Day in Sydney.

It may seem strange that a Protestant leaflet mentions this event. However it has many good aspects. It brings young people together. It encourages Christian youth to act as a force for good. It builds good will towards Australia in Catholic young people from all around the world. It re-emphasises the saving power of Jesus.

This is not to deny or minimise criticisms. It will probably be enormously disruptive. It will put pressure on services and infrastructure. There have been questions about the cost of this event.

We Protestants do question aspects of Catholic presentations of Christianity. The Reformation rescued the gospel from layers of obligations, practices and superstitions which had arisen over the centuries. The Reformers' radical cry was "sola scriptura!" (by scripture alone.) Of course we respect the wisdom of history's Councils and

IN JULY 2008, Australia will host one of the most significant religious events for decades when the Catholic Church holds World Youth Day in Sydney.

It may seem strange that a Protestant leaflet mentions this event. However it has many good aspects. It brings young people together. It encourages Christian youth to act as a force for good. It builds good will towards Australia in Catholic young people from all around the world. It re-emphasises the saving power of Jesus.

This is not to deny or minimise criticisms. It will probably be enormously disruptive. It will put pressure on services and infrastructure. There have been questions about the cost of this event.

We Protestants do question aspects of Catholic presentations of Christianity. The Reformation rescued the gospel from layers of obligations, practices and superstitions which had arisen over the centuries. The Reformers' radical cry was "sola scriptura!" (by scripture alone.) Of course we respect the wisdom of history's Councils and Church leaders. We merely plead for radical re-assessment, a return to the basics, and testing all things by the standard of God's word.

The Bible says,
(Psalm 119:105) *Your word is a lamp to my feet
and a light for my path.*

Follow the clear principles of the Bible: it will not mislead you!

We are glad to see young people encouraged in right paths; however, we urge all people of good will to read and study the Bible so they can see clearly what those right paths are.

During this year many churches around Sydney will be encouraging their communities to look again at the Bible, and find in it guidance for starting the ultimate relationship with God. Why not start that relationship for yourself today? In the Bible you will find the truth about Jesus, the power of his grace and the true nature of faith. Contact the church which gave you this leaflet to find out more.

Church leaders. We merely plead for radical re-assessment, a return to the basics, and testing all things by the standard of God's word.

The Bible says,
(Psalm 119:105) *Your word is a lamp to my feet
and a light for my path.*

Follow the clear principles of the Bible: it will not mislead you!

We are glad to see young people encouraged in right paths; however, we urge all people of good will to read and study the Bible so they can see clearly what those right paths are.

During this year many churches around Sydney will be encouraging their communities to look again at the Bible, and find in it guidance for starting the ultimate relationship with God. Why not start that relationship for yourself today? In the Bible you will find the truth about Jesus, the power of his grace and the true nature of faith. Contact the church which gave you this leaflet to find out more.

Church leaders. We merely plead for radical re-assessment, a return to the basics, and testing all things by the standard of God's word.

The Bible says,
(Psalm 119:105) *Your word is a lamp to my feet
and a light for my path.*

Follow the clear principles of the Bible: it will not mislead you!

We are glad to see young people encouraged in right paths; however, we urge all people of good will to read and study the Bible so they can see clearly what those right paths are.

During this year many churches around Sydney will be encouraging their communities to look again at the Bible, and find in it guidance for starting the ultimate relationship with God. Why not start that relationship for yourself today? In the Bible you will find the truth about Jesus, the power of his grace and the true nature of faith. Contact the church which gave you this leaflet to find out more.